Overview

Step inside. Mystery School is in session and now you can learn some of the secrets of magic.

This workshop will introduce children to the world of magic with a series of easy-to-do effects. Most everything is provided; that which isn't is readily available at home.

Participants are encouraged to bring a home-made decorated magic wand (show us your imagination) to the class. This can be done as a pre-workshop activity; suggestions and instructions for three different styles of wand are available to facilitate this activity.

The course materials may be provided by the event sponsor or paid for by the students. The package is available either with or without the standard wand.

All of these items will be used during the course of the workshop.

A number of teaching materials will be lent to the student for use during the workshop and must be returned at the end of the class.

In addition, students may be offered the opportunity to purchase additional materials that are beyond the scope of the workshop but are suitable for further study and practice at home.
