

Mental Blocks

Sophisticated entertainment for the corporate audience

Overview

RON GUTTMAN

Mental Blocks is a sophisticated and intellectually stimulating program of cutting-edge entertainment designed for the business audience. Your guests will be treated to an engaging performance that features mental magic at its finest and incorporates a full array of thought reading demonstrations, unique plots and bizarre stories.

The show is highly interactive — everyone becomes a part of the show that features sleight-of-mind, not sleight-of-hand. The magic happens in the minds of your audience and the audience becomes the show!

By the end of the show your guests will have been taken on a journey of exploration of the inner mind and outer funny-bone. When they go home, many will be asking, “Is it real?”

Mental Blocks is guaranteed to amaze and entertain and is suitable for an audience of just about any size, from a boardroom diversion to a full-length after-dinner offering at a sales meeting, or corporate retreat.

Selected Testimonial

“Your show was fast paced, with elements of humour and just the right length to be a perfect complement to our staff Tournament.”

Craig Evans, President

“Our club members really enjoyed the performance. By the end of the evening the sceptics were onside. Ron’s ability to bring the audience into his act and have them take part in the magic is part of his charm.”
